2.2 A total of five proposals were received for the Town of Lebanon Historic Building Survey Phase II which the review committee narrowed down to the top three potential firms. As the project is funded by a $20,000 grant, the town set the maximum bid at $19,500. The following bids were received:

2.3 Robert Fradette, Financial Consultant with Chelsea Groton Financial Services and Infinex Investments was present along with James Forrest, Town Treasurer to discuss the development of investment guidelines and policies for present and future endowment accounts. Okonuk explained that earlier this year the endowments provided to the Town by Hugh Trumbull Adams that had previously been managed by Merrill Lynch, needed to have a change in oversight as Merrill Lynch was no longer managing municipal endowments. At the time of the notice, US Treasury Bonds within the endowments were maturing and needed to be reinvested immediately. The Selectmen and Forrest made temporary changes. (See minutes from February 12, 2013 Special Meeting). As the Town can only utilize the interest and dividends from these investments, the Selectmen need to be sure that adequate guidelines and protocols are in place to protect the principal portion of the investments and to make investment decisions that will provide a steady revenue stream. To accomplish same, Fradette was asked to return to the Selectmen with: 1) An analysis of current holdings with recommendations for changes; 2) Assistance in developing an investment policy for endowments along with structure for the guidelines and tracking to an index; 3) A periodic review of investments based on guidelines that will be established; 4) A monthly report and update from Forrest at the Selectmen’s Regular meetings; 5) A quarterly report from Fradette. Fradette will begin working on this immediately and report back to the First Selectman with his findings and recommendations.

2.4 Forrest requested the Selectmen authorize the closing of an inactive account with the Dime Savings Bank which was opened in 1976 as a “Local School Fund” and has not had any activity other than gaining a tiny bit of interest over the years. The account balance is currently $1,936.83. After some discussion it was decided to transfer the funds into the “School Activity Fund” a general fund that supports various school activities. Motion made by Bendoraitis, seconded by Finelli to close the Local School Fund at Dime Savings Bank and transfer the balance of $1,936.83 to the Lyman Memorial High School Activity Fund. Vote: Yes, unanimous.

The following two proposals were received:
